The vegetable oils which are used in the manufacture of Ivory Soap come from the other side of the globe.

Cuba and South America produce oils of fairly good quality; but we prefer to go 10,000 miles further, pay more and get the best.

Why do we do it? Because it pays—that is the only reason.

Henderson—Froehling. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BLACKSBURG, VA., November 26.—Miss Annie Elizabeth Henderson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Knox Henderson, was married in the Presbyterian Church here last night at 9 o'clock to Mr. Henry Charles Froehling, of Richmond. Among the guests witnessing the ceremony were officers of the V. P. L. cadet corps, former students of the college, out-of-town guests and society people of the institute and Blacksburg.

As Misses Corbin, Hobbie, of Roanoke; Lallage Oates, of Asheville, N. C.; Messrs. J. P. Cova, of Havana, and Edward Michaels, of Richmond, entered by the right door of the church, the other bridesmaids and groomsmen—Misses Mattie Henderson and Annie McConkey, of Salem, Messrs. A. B. Guizon, Jr., and A. V. Adamson, of Richmond—came up the left aisle, the party forming a semicircle in front of the flower-laden chancel, on which there were many lighted candles.

The bride and groom will come to Abingdon immediately, and will reside in the Methodist parsonage there. Mr. Burrow first met Miss Frosser while she was private secretary to Dr. Hammond in Nashville. For many years Mr. Burrow has been secretary of the Holston Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
